Residents group fury over plans for 400 homes

RESIDENTS have reacted angrily to plans to build up to 400 homes on two sites on Parrs Lane, Aughton.

Redrow Homes intend to submit an outline planning application for up to 250 homes on 11 hectares of land to the west of Parrs Lane, while Wainhomes Developments plan up to 150 homes on land to the south, with access from Prescot Road.

The developers leafleted homes surrounding the proposed site last week giving initial details of their proposals and a masterplan diagram.

Colin Atkinson, chairman of Aughton Residents Group (2012), said that the group will fight the plans as the land, bounded by Long Lane, Parrs Lane and Prescot Road, was identified as a Plan B (standby) site in West Lancs Council's Local Plan.

He said: "These proposals are unwarranted, totally out of order and nothing more than aggressive marketing by the developers who obviously consider themselves above having to comply with the Local Plan.

"Our group has been contesting the development on this land for the past three years and warned residents some time ago to be aware of the developers' intentions to eventually turn this beautiful area into a giant housing estate."

At the Aughton Parish Council meeting on Monday (March 9) attended by around 30 residents, campaigners raised concerns that the proposed plans were too early for a Plan B site.

The clerk to the council has written to the borough council planning department expressing the concerns.

Residents can submit comments on the proposals to Redrow by Tuesday, March 17 at lancashire@redrow.co.uk or to Wainhomes by Wednesday, March 18 at steve.toghill@wainhomes.net

FIRE CREWS TO PILOT MEDICAL PROJECT

By Danielle Thompson

FIRE and rescue crews in Ormskirk are one of two teams in Lancashire chosen to trial a new pilot project to provide emergency medical assistance.

Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service's Ormskirk and Morecambe crews will team up with the North West Ambulance Service in a bid to increase emergency patients' survival rates.

There are two full crews of seven staff at Ormskirk station and five members of staff usually attend each incident.

Of these, two or three members of staff from each crew will be trained as first responders (the level of a paramedic) and the team will respond to Red 1 and Red 2 (immediately life–threatening) calls in Ormskirk for a trial six–month scheme.

Patients in life–threatening situations who receive rapid intervention will have a better chance of survival. For those who are suffering cardiac arrest, for example, the chance of a positive outcome is improved by 10 per cent for every minute saved in getting treatment underway.

Fire crews will be called if ambulance service operators believe they can reach the scene fastest.

They will be sent out at the same time as an ambulance crew so the response will supplement the ambulance service.

The project is a first for Lancashire.

The advantages are that the fire crews are experienced at working in difficult situations and can quickly reach the emergency using blue lights and sirens, equipped with personal protective equipment.

Fire crews have already undergone basic training and are adept at using a defibrillator, which is used to restart a patient's heart after a cardiac arrest (each fire truck has one), administering oxygen, stemming bleeding, clearing airways and using basic first aid.

The full team will be involved in the response, providing medical help, scene management and reassurance for family or friends.

The first phase of the project, holding a consultation and discussions to develop an operating model, is now underway.

After the pilot scheme has finished, Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service and North West Ambulance Service will review the scheme and make recommendations on the feasibility of making permanent arrangements across Lancashire.

Members of Ormskirk's Fire and Rescue crew who will trial the new pilot scheme

Additional stations in Lancashire could be added into the scheme after the six–month pilot.

Deputy chief fire officer, Justin Johnson, said: "There are community first responder schemes across the county and we will be supporting that, but we have the added advantage of being able to get to the emergency with blue lights and sirens and bring our experience in working in difficult situations.

"If someone suffers a heart attack we want them to get the response they need to survive as quickly as possible, knowing that they won't be concerned what uniform the person they first see on coming round is wearing."

A start date for the pilot project has yet to be set.

War Horse walk is back by popular demand!

By Danielle Thompson

During World War One horses were transported by rail direct to Lathom Park

FOLLOWING the success of last year's War Horse Walk, VISIT Sefton and West Lancashire is once again teaming up with Lathom Parish Council to offer members of the public another chance to join the walk.

They will be leading a free, guided walk over a shortened version of the route on Saturday, March 28 leaving at 10am from Ormskirk railway station car park. There is no need to book.

En route a local historian will tell the story of the war horses and the contribution they made.

The route will mostly follow that taken by thousands of horses that had been brought from all over the world to Ormskirk station via Liverpool Docks. The horses were then walked through the streets of Ormskirk to Lathom and the Remount Depot at Lathom Park.

Walkers can opt for one of two routes.

The circular route is six miles long and includes a break at Lathom Chapel for refreshments before continuing.

Alternatively, at Lathom Chapel walkers can make use of the classic bus provided by Merseyside Transport Trust to ride free of charge back to Ormskirk railway station. This one–way walking route route is around two–and–a–half miles long.

Horses and mules were a vital part of the war effort and Lathom Park hosted more than200,000 before they carried out their service, sometimes at the war front in France.

Lathom Park was one of only three Remount Depots in the UK. Later in the war horses were transported by rail direct to Lathom Park.

If you are unable to join the walk VISIT has produced a leaflet which will allow walkers to follow the route themselves. Copies can be obtained from West Lancashire libraries or downloaded from the VISIT website www.visitsefton andwestlancs.co.uk.

Walkers should arrive 15 minutes before departure times, wear suitable footwear and clothing. Children should be accompanied by an adult.

For more details email Derek@wlcvs.org.

Ormskirk–born climber celebrates birthday with a dangerous descent into the mouth of an active volcano

By Danielle Thompson

MANY people might be tempted to take up a new challenge to celebrate a birthday but few would be up to tackling the daunting task undertaken by Ormskirk–born climber Chris Horsley.

For the former Ormskirk School pupil marked his 23rd birthday by plunging 1,200 metres into the mouth of an active volcano!

Daredevil Chris is one of only 20 people in the world – and the youngest – to have made the "unbelievable" descent to the Marum lava lake in Vanuata in the South Pacific Ocean.

Chris, who now lives Down Under in Melbourne, Australia, started out on his incredible trip after meeting adventurers and photographers Bradley Ambrose, 36, and 50–year–old Geoff Mackley, both from New Zealand, while backpacking.

It was the pair who persuaded him to undertake the once–in–a–lifetime trip on his 23rd birthday earlier this year where the group took amazing pictures looking into the Marum crater.

The volcano consists of two craters, the Marum crater and the Benbow Crater.

Bradley and Geoff are believed to be the first people in the world to tackle the Benbow crater.

The men all withstood temperatures of 1,150 degrees Celsius as they took pictures of the bubbling lava, which can reach temperatures of more than 1,700 degrees.

Writing on his Facebook page Chris commented: "It was the most unbelievable day of my life. Words can't describe this experience.

"Seven weeks ago I never would have thought I would come away from Vanuatu with the memories and as the world's first and youngest to descend, having had the opportunities that I have. It's been a truly incredible time and I can't wait to continue on these crazy adventures."

Chris Horsley

Bradley Ambrose said: "Approximately 20 people in the world have made this descent and all of them only made successful descents because they were part of our expeditions or trips that Geoff organised.

"It is inherently dangerous. It is extremely difficult and can be terrifying in places.

"There is no guarantee that anyone will make a successful descent, even with us, but we are the only people to ever get others to the bottom.

"There are so many sacrifices involved in helping other people to achieve their goals. It all comes down to the saying, there is no 'I' in 'team'.

"Geoff has nearly single–handedly raised the profile of Vanuata and tourism has increased."

Operator axes bus link to St Helens

BUS users in West Lancashire have suffered another blow with the announcement that private operator South Lancashire Travel is to withdraw its No. 319 service between Ormskirk and St Helens with effect from Friday, April 3.

The service currently operates approximately every two hours Monday to Saturday daytime between the two towns via the A570, passing Edge Hill University, Stanley Gate and Rainford.

However, the company have informed Lancashire County Council that the service has not been commercially sustainable since they took it over from Stagecoach a number of years ago and despite trying a number of alternatives have decided that the resources used are better utilised elsewhere within their operating areas.

The county council and Merseytravel have been unable to find a new operator to provide a replacement service.

County Councilor John Fillis, Lancashire's cabinet member for highways and transport, said: "This is yet another example of the private sector failing to provide a public bus service for local people, putting profits before passengers. Lancashire County Council has not withdrawn any funding from this or any other subsidised bus service in West Lancashire.

"What we need is a bus service that is accountable to local people.

"It's time we put the public back in the driving seat."

Chance for a bus ride down Memory Lane

Report by Danielle Thompson

TRANSPORT enthusiasts will be able to take a trip back in time on Saturday (March 14) when the third annual West Lancashire Classic Bus Day is staged.

Eight classic buses from the Merseyside Transport Trust collection will run frequent trips over two routes, both starting at Burscough Bridge.

Classic AEC Regent double–deckers from the 1950s, along with some Leyland Atlanteans from the 1960s and early 1970s, supplemented by a pair of single–deck buses, will run over the two routes along some of the quieter lanes of West Lancashire.

One route links Burscough Bridge with Ormskirk while for the first time the other route will follow a circular route from Burscough Bridge via Bispham Green, Parbold and Newburgh.

Journeys are free and buses will operate on both routes every 30 minutes from noon until 6pm.

CLASSIC encounter... one of the AEC Regents double–deckers that will take part in the third annual West Lancashire Classic Bus Day on Saturday.

Unique opportunity

The Merseyside Transport Trust, a local registered charity, has a collection of more than 40 classic buses – the oldest dating back to the 1940s – all of which are kept in Burscough.

The vehicles represent the progress of public road transport over the last 70 years and while the collection is not normally open to the public the voluntary group makes the vehicles available for people to see and travel aboard at numerous events throughout the year.

Lee Wolfe, from the Merseyside Transport Trust, said: "As the routes meander through the beautiful countryside surrounding the Burscough area they pass a number of country pubs, at which the buses stop to drop off and pick up passengers who may wish to visit the establishments or for those who wish to take a walk through the countryside.

"Both routes cross over the Leeds–Liverpool Canal numerous times giving visitors the unique opportunity to travel by classic bus before alighting to enjoy a walk along the scenic canal footpath before re–joining one of the buses at a stop further along the canal."

Bowlers on target for Alfie

Report by Ollie Cowan

BIG–hearted bowlers have raised more than £1,500 for a little boy who suffers from a rare condition characterized by moderate to severe intellectual disability.

The charity bowling day at Southport's Premier Bowl complex was organised by local campaigner Angela Deacon to raise funds for vital equipment for Burscough youngster, Alfie Lund to help meet his therapy needs and give him a more comfortable life.

Seven–year–old Alfie suffers from MECP2 Duplication syndrome and his family work tirelessly to raise awareness of the condition.

MECP2 duplication syndrome occurs almost exclusively in males and most sufferers also have weak muscle tone in infancy, feeding difficulties, poor or absent speech, seizures that may not improve with treatment, or muscle stiffness.

Alfie can't walk or talk, has profound and multiple learning difficulties, suffers from recurrent chest infections and has had two bouts of serious pnuemonia due to a weakened immune system.

He can't dress or feed himself, may develop epilepsy, suffers from severe constipation and reflux, has autisic traits and will almost certainly have a shortened life expectancy.

But despite that, family, friends and campaigners describe him as "the most amazing little boy who takes life in his stride, smiles and laughs and has just learned how to give hugs."

Angela Deacon, who works for the Santander Banking Group, organised the charity bowling competition at the resort bowling alley to raise more funds for Alfie's needs.

She said: "I've done sponsored bowling before and we just wanted this opportunity to raise funds for little Alfie. I became involved with the appeal after meeting young Alfie in Burscough village and his situation just touches your heart.

"He has a very rare condition and needs a lot of support and a lot of people were happy to take part in the event to raise as much as possible for Alfie.

"The amount of support has just been phenomenal and we'd like to thank KC computers and the Left Bank restaurant who have donated prizes for the cause as well."

Fundraisers got together to help support the Alfie Lund fund

Alfie's mum, Rachel, told the Champion: "Alfie has a rare condition which affects him in every way. He will have a shortened life expectancy and the aim of the fund, which we set up two–and–a–half years ago, is to raise funds for specialist equipment which the NHS can't provide so we can make his life as comfortable as possible.

"We're delighted that so many people turned up for bowling event and we know that Alfie has a huge amount of support. It's amazing to see so many people turn out to support our little boy."

• IF you'd like to donate to the Alfie Lund Fund go to the website www.thealfielundfund.co.uk/.

Townsfolk urged to get behind Daffodil Appeal

ORMSKIRK residents are being urged to get behind a national cancer charity appeal.

The Marie Curie Great Daffodil Appeal, which is the charity's biggest fundraiser, runs throughout March during which townsfolk will be asked to make a donation and wear a daffodil pin to support people living with terminal illnesses.

Locally the appeal will be rounded off with a street collection in the town on Saturday, March 28.

Funds raised from the appeal will help Marie Curie Nurses provide care to someone living with a terminal illness so they can spend more time with the people they love.

Community fundraiser, Sarah Fletcher, said: "We need everyone in Ormskirk to get behind the appeal by donating and wearing one of our daffodil pins during March. Every penny is vital."

RAF group seeks recruits

THE Ormskirk branch of the Royal Air Force Association are appealing for new members to join up at their next annual general meeting later this month.

As well as new members, any current members who have not attended recently or serving or former members of the Royal Air Force or the Royal Auxiliary Air Force are welcome to go along.

The meeting will be held at New Church House Hall, Church Street, Ormskirk on Tuesday, March 24 starting at 2.30pm.

Ethan's song is a hit with online video viewers – 19 years after being recorded!

By Danielle Thompson

A SINGER from West Lancs is hitting the high notes with a song he recorded nearly 20 years ago after clocking up more than four million views on video–sharing website YouTube!

Ethan Allen, from Aughton, who is signed to Mondeo Recordings, became an unlikely internet sensation thanks to Somethin' in the Water, a song from his former band The Cheap Seats' 1996 album, Call It What You Will.

The song has been a staple at line dance events but has been unavailable since Ethan and songwriter John Pettifer split up in 1999.

The video for Somethin' In The Water was No.1 in the CMT Video Chart in 1996.

Accalimed line dancing tutor Rob Fowler choreographed a dance to the song, which he called The Beast to Somethin' In The Water, which was played at last month's Crystal Boot Awards in Blackpool, causing a surge in the song's popularity.

Ethan Allen

And a video of the song was posted to Ethan's Facebook page where it has now had more than 4,270,000 views.

The Crystal Boot Awards, which recognise outstanding contributions to line dancing, are staged by the Champion's sister publication Linedancer Magazine.

More than 1,000 dancers, instructors and choreographers attend the awards each year and tickets for next year's event in January 2016 sold out within two days of going on sale.

Forty–one–year–old Ethan told the Champion: "I was surprised that the video has done so well after 20 years, four million hits is an incredible number!

"It's all down to the Crystal Boot Awards. I have seen many videos of Rob choreographing routines to the song which is very popular within line dancing but this one is more relaxed. It shows the lighter side of line dancing and the crowd loving it – clapping and cheering.

"I can't believe it. I'm an events promoter now but it's great to be back in the limelight being appreciated as an artist again."

Camera ace Joel strikes silver in regional awards

A WEDDING photographer from Parbold has snapped up a top regional award in a scheme run by a national body.

Joel Penn, who runs Joel Penn Photography with wife Clare, earned a prestigious Silver Bar Award for North West Wedding Photographer from the Guild of Photographers for his image of bridesmaids at a wedding at Thornton Manor in Cheshire.

The 40–year–old said: "For me, wedding photography is about capturing those special moments. On the day the weather was perfect and the bridesmaids were very excitable so I suggested a play in the grounds so that I could capture their high spirits.

"I was really pleased with the end result and decided to enter the image to the guild.

Report by Danielle Thompson

"This was the first time I had submitted an image to the guild and I was thrilled to be awarded a silver bar as their standards are very high.

"But now I suppose pressure is on to make sure that the next image I submit is awarded a gold bar!"

Father–of–two Joel, who was previously a camera operator at Shepperton Film Studios in Middlesex, joined the the Guild of Photographers, which has more than 1,000 members throughout the UK, in 2013 as his wedding photography business expanded.

Chance for residents to have a say on town–centre strategy

Library to host next public consultation on March 16

RESIDENTS are being urged to give their views on a draft strategy to help shape Ormskirk town centre.

West Lancs Council is holding consultations on a new blueprint, with key issues including how the market can diversify and attract even more shoppers, for example by having local produce markets, arts and crafts traders and stalls for student traders from Edge Hill University.

It is hope that improvements to the market would complement the recently started 'refreshing' of the pedestrianised area in Moor Street.

The next public consultation will be held at Ormskirk library in Burscough Street from between 4 and 7pm on Monday (March 16).

Councillor David Griffiths, West lancs Council's portfolio holder for town and village centres, said: "Ormskirk provides a good offer to visitors and people living in the town with its great history, thriving market, shops, restaurants and fantastic events such as Ormskirk MotorFest, but our strategy can help make it an even better place now and well into the future.

"We are very grateful to the people who have already responded but we are keen to hear from as many people as possible to help us come up with the best possible strategy to meet the needs of local people and businesses.

"Everyone can take part in the consultation but we particularly want Ormskirk people to take part in this process as they can give us their invaluable insight on the town in which they live."

Some of the main proposals covered in the strategy include:

• Looking to improve the evening/night–time economy to help ensure that the town centre continues to be a vibrant and safe environment after 5pm, including the possible introduction of food and drink festivals.

• Reviewing the current pricing strategy of the town–centre car parks; in particular reviewing if offering free car parking for shorter periods of time (such as half–an–hour) would help attract shoppers who may want to pick up one or two items.

• Improving the current transport and access arrangement in the town.

• Developing a website dedicated to Ormskirk town centre.

• Improving and enhancing the appearance and appeal of the town centre, including making the most of the town's historic character.

The council wants to hear what you have to say to inform the preparation of the final plan. You can read the document, currently in its draft stage, and give your views by visiting www.westlancs.gov.uk/yourviews. Alternatively you can request a printed questionnaire by contacting the economic regeneration unit on 01695 585122 or by email info.edu@westlancs.gov.uk.

The consultation is open until Tuesday, April 14.

Anyone fancy being a theatre critic for a day?

AN award–winning theatre producer is inviting members of the public to try their hand at being critics by reviewing a reading of her latest work to be staged at Aughton Village Hall on Thursday, March 19.

Writer, performer and director, Laura Lindow is creating a new show, In Chips, with the support of Lancashire's rural touring network, Spot On, which encourages participation in the arts.

In Chips is a story about family life and features normal people and their problems. Laura will read extracts from her story and ask for feedback from the audience.

The event starts at 2.30pm and it's free to attend but places must be reserved by ringing Sue Watkinson on 01695 422 423.

War journal to be launched at uni

Report by Henry James

A FASCINATING Second World War journal written by the mother of a former pro vice–chancellor at Edge Hill will be launched at the university later this month.

Joyce's War is the wartime journal of Joyce Parry, whose eldest daughter, Professor Rhiannon Evans, was a member of the Edge Hill directorate from 1994 to 2008.

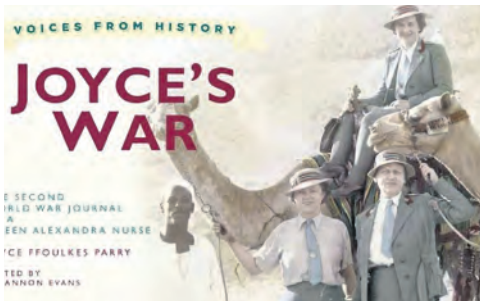
Professor Evans has edited the book, which came to light after Joyce's death in 1992, and will host the launch at The Hub at 6pm on Wednesday, March 25.

Joyce was an Australian nurse who came to the UK in 1937 to find her roots in Wales and Liverpool. On the outbreak of war she signed up to work as a sister on hospital ships in India and the Middle East.

At the launch, Professor Evans will give a talk illustrated with photographs, illustrations and images by war artists, including local artist Albert Richards, exploring some of the highlights and challenges of editing her mother's journal.

Out of the chaos of war emerges a voice telling a vivid, compelling and honest story of adventure, bravery, friendship, homesickness and wartime romance.

Joyce's wry observations about everything from the bureaucracy of the army to how poetry and shopping helped sustain her through four difficult but extraordinary years, offer a glimpse into a vanished world.



The cover of Joyce's War

The book also contains original photographs taken during the war and illustrations by children's books illustrator, Sian Bailey.

Professor Evans was awarded an MBE in 2008 for services to higher education and on retirement she set up an annual poetry prize in her name at Edge Hill.

The launch is free to attend and open to the public. To book a place go to http://www.edgehill.ac.uk/events.

Good news for drivers

MOTORISTS will be allowed a ten–minute 'grace' period after their parking ticket has expired before they are given a fine in council–owned car parks.

It is one of several changes announced by the government last week that will come into effect later this month.

Other changes announced include guidance for councils, reminding them they are banned from using parking to generate profit, a right for residents and businesses to petition their council to review parking in their area, new powers for parking adjudicators to hold councils to account and protection to stop drivers being fined after parking at out–of–order meters.

MP backs ovarian cancer campaign

WEST Lancs MP Rosie Cooper joined with fellow MPs, celebrities and health professionals to mark Ovarian Cancer Awareness Month which is being held throughout March.

MPs from across all parties turned out to show their support at the Make Time for Tea event at the House of Commons alongside stage and screen stars including Maxine Peake, Christopher Biggins, Denise Welch and Dame Esther Rantzen.

The event was held in conjunction with the Eve Appeal, a charity that raises money to research women's cancers and guests heard from two women with direct experience of ovarian cancer.

Rosie Cooper said: "With ovarian cancer one of the top five causes of cancer deaths in women in the UK, the work and research the Eve Appeal are doing is vitally important. It's a pleasure to support the charity to promote awareness of these forms of cancer and to raise much–needed funds for further research."

Make Time for Tea parties will be taking place throughout the UK during March to raise funds for the Eve Appeal.

Smokers urged to call it quits on No Smoking Day

SMOKERS in Lancashire are being urged to take the opportuity to quit the habit as part of No Smoking Day today (Wednesday, March 11).

Health experts are hoping some of the county's estimated 190,000–plus smokers will give up.

The theme this year is 'I'm proud to be a quitter' to encourage people to take inspiration from the 6,000 smokers who successfully quit last year.

Around 20% of the county's population smoke, which is more than the national average.

Research shows that people are four times more likely to quit for good if they contact their local stop smoking service and Lancashire County Council is encouraging them to call on No Smoking Day.

County Councillor Azhar Ali, Lancashire's cabinet member for health and wellbeing, said: "There's no doubt it's tough to give up but with support from trained staff from the stop smoking service, smokers can get the help they need to overcome the nicotine cravings and withdrawal symptoms. You are four times more likely to succeed if you get help from your stop smoking service and No Smoking Day is a great time to quit."

Smokers wanting to quit can call the West Lancashire Quit Squad on 0800 328 6297.

A grand boost for Street Pastors

Report by Danielle Thompson

A GROUP of volunteers who patrol the streets of Ormskirk on weekend evenings to help promote night–time safety have received a £1,000 donation.

The grant was awarded to the Ormskirk Street Pastors from Lancashire police and crime commissioner Clive Grunshaw's Community Action Fund.

The Street Pastors are part of a national team first pioneered in 2003. They are made up of trained volunteers from local churches and usually patrol from 10pm to 4am on Fridays and Saturdays helping people and handing out flip–flops, blankets and warm drinks to those who need them.

They also support people who have misused drugs and alcohol and engage positively with the public, licensees and doormen to prevent trouble in partnership with the police, local council and other statutory agencies.

The Community Action Fund gives grants of up to £2,500 to support small projects across Lancashire.

The Street Pastors in action

Mr Grunshaw said: "An important part of my role is assisting community groups and voluntary organisations to help their area. Local people are in the best position to know what residents living in their area need, and I am pleased I am able to support them to deliver the initiatives they believe their communities will benefit from, enabling them to tackle crime, reduce anti–social behaviour and support people going through difficult times."

Government 'stranglehold' on localism renders planning appeals meaningless

YOUR February 25 edition carried an article about Rosie Cooper's support of proposals for residents to have a right of appeal against planning consents.

Just before the 2010 General Election the Conservative Party pledged to bring in such a right of appeal, if elected. By contrast, what happened after that was the scrapping of all national planning controls and guidance, replaced by the disastrous National Planning Policy Framework and still no process for appealing against individual consents.

This legislation was so ill–considered that the government has since introduced loads of so–called guidance which is so badly worded as to be worthless. We are left with a general presumption in favour of development, with business development and economic growth at the forefront.

If anyone wants to know how bad the results can be, they should look just to the other side of the Ribble to see what is happening in the Fylde. There, huge tracts of green belt land have been allocated for housing under the new government policies, against the wishes of the local authority and residents in general.

The local authority is stuck because its funding has been cut so far that it now relies on the New Homes Bonus to fund basic services. It's in a government stranglehold on 'localism' which is coming here soon.

The relevance of this is that no appeal process would work unless the basic document and its increasing load of 'guidance' are changed fundamentally. Appeals would be routinely rejected on the grounds of government policy.

The government has now gone so far that applicants for planning permission are not even required to supply site layout plans. Until a year ago, such plans were regarded as a fundamental national requirement but the government scrapped the requirement. Other plans can be submitted on paper at any scale, so long as it is metric and they fit onto a standard sheet of paper of not less than A4 size.

Even commenting on an application is now a meaningless task unless the applicant voluntarily supplies a site layout plan to a meaningful scale. This is the only realistic way in which to assess compliance with the adopted Local Plan and the effects upon neighbours and the neighbourhood in general.

In the current situation, what chance would there be of launching a meaningful appeal against even the most outrageous consents?

Roger Clayton, Secretary, South Lathom Residents' Association.

Link Road completion a tribute to Albert's efforts

IT was interesting to read in the Champion of the approaching spring completion of the Thornton to Switch Island Link Road. My mind goes back some 35 years. Merseyside County Councillor, Albert Birch, had successfully argued the case for a 30mph speed limit through the village of Ince Blundell.

As a local resident of Molyneux ward, Albert was passionate about a road to bypass the villages of Netherton, Sefton, Lunt, Thornton and Ince Blundell. He lobbied persistently for such a project to alleviate problems besetting people in the affected villages.

Eventually, a scheme was prepared and submitted to the Ministry of Transport for approval. Who would have thought it would take so long to implement! Such are the machinations of government and financing difficulties for local authority works.

So, well done to all those concerned in this achievement and, also to you Albert, for helping to sow the seeds all those years ago. Motorists throughout Sefton and West Lancashire will surely reap the benefit.

Readers are reminded that Jospice, in conjunction with Balfour Beatty, is organising a charity event which will be the only chance to walk on the Relief Road before it opens to traffic. The date is Sunday, March 29 from 11am to 3 pm, access via Brickwall Lane. All for a £5 donation with a certificate at the end – see the Jospice website for further details and registration.

HMOs must be restricted on new development

STUDENT houses must be restricted on the planned new Grove Farm development, where Taylor Wimpey plan to build 311 new homes off High Lane.

It's vital that these new homes provide for local families and young people. It would be wrong for this housing to be snapped up by landlords looking to convert them to student accommodation.

Worryingly, though, the area of the development is not covered by the 5% limit on student properties brought in by the council after a surge in such conversions.

I live in Station Road and more than a quarter of the properties in our road are student properties. This can lead to unbalanced communities, including a threat to our local schools as young families have to move elsewhere. There can also be a clash of lifestyles.

I don't want to see this situation arising on the new Grove Farm development which is why I have written to the borough planner and requested that steps are taken now to introduce the 5% HMO restriction on this new estate as well.

Jane Thompson, Ormskirk

I fear Jim's on wrong track about rail fare increases

I THINK of Jim Sharpe as being old enough for a railcard – maybe he is just pleasantly old–fashioned – but I fear he may be exaggerating the increase in rail fares in comparing current peak and 2005 off–peak fares in his recent column on the subject.

However, those of us with a railcard can travel to London from Liverpool return for £54 using any Virgin train.

Unfortunately, the way the railcard deduction is calculated does not allow for this from suburban stations and while off–peak the same fare applies, the cost jumps to £204 if you use a peak train.

Until recently local stations could avoid this but it seems they cannot over–ride the latest ticket machines if you buy on the day you travel! You need to book separately to and beyond the Virgin station.

It is not just the different companies nowadays which are the problem – similar issues date back here to when British Rail were offering special inter–city fares and are found on the nationalised railways in Europe.

Lancashire has a lot of people who are paid by their employers to spend a day in London and will pay what it costs – but mostly they don't have railcards and the easy way to fill trains but avoid over–crowding by lower fares for all is to welcome just railcard holders at the off–peak fares.

In comparing with fares from Scotland, only those who can pay to fly go for the day, and nobody would use a high peak train fare.

David Gelder, Parbold

Don't blame brave airmen

WHY do we keep being reminded about the bombing of Dresden 60 years ago?

It must be remembered that it was the Germans who introduced carpet bombing with their destruction of Coventry.

Having seen the destruction of Dresden first–hand, having entered the city the morning after the raid, there was not a window intact and women were shaking their fists at us, the prisoners of war.

One of our airmen was lying dead behind a wall. But one thing that stays in my mind was the sight of a nurse calmly pushing a German soldier in a wheelchair over a bridge with bombers overhead.

So why blame our brave airmen whose lives were always on the line carrying out a thankless duty in the cause for freedom?

W. E. Baybutt, Burscough

Let's praise small schools too

I AGREE with J. McGregor (Letters, February 11) that it's good to celebrate high academic achievement as a previous correspondent did about Parbold Douglas CE Academy.

However, it's a great shame that smaller schools, such as Richard Durning's Endowed Primary School, do not have their fantastic SATs results publicised by the government in the same way as larger schools simply because they had a small number of pupils in that year.

Let us celebrate the wonderful successes of all our local small schools.

J. Hales, Mawdesley

Speeding concerns

I AM very concerned about the speeding of transport on Grimshaw Lane, Ormskirk coming from the direction of the Kicking Donkey.

The speed limit goes from 60mph to 30mph then down to 20mph as you approach the Yew Tree pub, but cars, and even tractors, come into the 30mph zone doing at least 40mph.

Something even more dangerous is when drivers turn left at the Yew Tree pub without indicating. Isn't it about time we had a speed camera in the area?

D. Smith, Grimshaw Lane, Ormskirk

Potholes danger

I BELIEVE the council received an amount of money for the repairs of road surfaces and potholes in all areas. Well, there's a lot of potholes in and around Ormskirk which are in need of attention.

Some are very dangerous and have been there for a very long time. I feel sorry for the poor cyclists.

New online tool helps college students target career goals

Report by Henry James

STUDENTS at West Lancashire College celebrated National Careers Week and promoting the importance of work experience and volunteering as part of their course.

To aid learners the college recently launched Careers Coach, an online career–searching tool which allows users to map out a path through education and training opportunities and help them reach their career goals.

The new online tool provides information on specific job roles that are linked to the career you are interested in, including roles and responsibilities, the qualifications required and a forecast of employment levels in the region over the next couple of years.

It also links to education and training opportunities offered at West Lancashire College, shows current and potential salaries for the jobs and careers of interest and provides a comprehensive CV builder tool complete with pre–populated information to assist you on your entry into employment.

Children's play learning and development learner, Josie Smith, who attends a work placement at St Michael's Primary school in Town Green and also volunteers on additional days for extra experience, said: "I find Careers Coach really useful when studying the 'Careers in Early Years' unit. It's really easy to use and is helpful in preparing for employment. I am able to compare and contrast careers, the annual wage and see the employment forecast in my local area."

Tutor, Michelle Mawdsley, commented: "It's a really good tool which we use in class when studying the 'Careers in Early Years' unit in which learners are required to create a portfolio of different progression routes available to them once they have completed the course.

Josie Smith logs on to Career Coach watched by tutor Michelle Mawdsley

"They can use Career Coach at home as well as in college. It enables students to assess their own ability in relation to their desired career path, they are able to see what the career entails, what skills are required, identify what skills they have already and what skills they may need to develop.

"Josie and a lot of other learners have been on placement so they already have skills and experience to put on their CV. Not everyone knows where to start when it comes to writing a CV, Careers Coach is a great basis on which to start."

Rotary Club stage presentation evening

Report by Jim Sharpe

COMMUNITY leaders and charity groups were honoured guests when the Rotary Club of Maghull and Aughton held their annual presentation evening at Maghull Town Hall.

The club's community services chairman, Ian Agnew, said the event gave the rotarians the opportunity to say a big thank–you to all concerned for their help in the annual Christmas charity collection featuring Father Christmas and the group's familiar and ever–popular Christmas float.

Maghull's town mayor, Councillor Joan Deegan, presented cheques to representatives of a number of local charities, while the evening also gave the rotary club the opportunity to showcase other recent achievements, including the staging of young chef and young speaker competitions.

Mr Agnew added: "The idea was to encourage creativity in young people and, on an international theme, to send shelter boxes to disaster areas, including the Philippines, and promoting the 'End Polio Now' programme.

"Our motto, 'Serving the Community', is proudly displayed on our Christmas float and the featuring of our involvement with so many community groups and ambitious projects on our presentation night clearly demonstrates that the local rotary club is well and truly serving the community."

Rosie goes back to school

MP's visit coincides with pupils' charity fundraiser

Report by Danielle Thompson

A CHARITY fundraising day organised by pupils of a local primary school was given an added boost when a special visitor dropped in.

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper enjoyed a tour of Aughton St Michael's Church of England Primary on the same day that the school in Delph Park Avenue held their Wear Red/Green Day and raised £250 to be shared between the British Heart Foundation and the Ebola Fund which aims to prevent the spread of the fatal disease.

Ms Cooper was met by headteacher, Fiona Cottam and chair of governors, Denis O'Brien, as well as meeting members of each class.

During her visit she learned about the school's ranking as the country's top–rated state school for chess and how it recently hosted the Ormskirk District Schools chess tournament.

She said: "It was a pleasure to be shown around the school and the grounds of St Michael's School by the headteacher and chair of governors. I always enjoy visiting schools in West Lancashire, seeing the lovely grounds and hearing of the incredible achievements of the pupils and projects our young people are working on.

"The selflessness and empathy of these young children was on show during their non–uniform day while raising money for charities such as the British Heart Foundation and the fight against Ebola.

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper with Aughton St Michael's chair of governors, Denis O'Brien, headteacher, Fiona Cottam and pupils Isaac Wood, Layla Bell, Holly King and Joshua Trew

"And only recently, all three of the school's teams from under–9 and under–11 age groups qualified for the National Primary Schools' Chess Competition.

"I would like to thank Fiona and Denis, and all the children who spoke with me on my visit, for making it a pleasant trip and I wish all the pupils sitting their SATs the very best of luck and to those competing in the upcoming chess competitions."

Chair of governors, Denis O'Brien, said: "I am glad our MP Rosie Cooper accepted my invitation to visit us here at the school. I was keen to show her around and let her experience the warm, friendly atmosphere at Aughton St Michael's."

And headteacher, Fiona Cottam, added: "We got to show Rosie around the school on the day of a charity drive by our pupils and tell her of recent success in our inter–school chess competitions. We hope she enjoyed the visit."

One stupid reason to keep smoking

THE good news is that I'm smoking again!

I'm well aware that few people will share my pleasure – and indeed I regret that I didn't take the opportunity to pack it in once and for all.

But the fact of the matter is that when I was laid low with the flu I not only simply didn't want to smoke, but in any case, after one or two exploratory puffs I found that I simply could not – the very whiff of smoke set me off coughing and wheezing. Not a good idea.

The trouble was I decided to treat cigarettes rather like Noah treated doves in his ark.

Every few days I tried to light up – and only when it became possible at least to try did I think I might even be on the road to recovery.

I was childishly delighted – much as Noah must have been when the dove returned with an olive twig or whatever in its beak.

I rather suspect that I was somewhat poorlier than I chose to admit to myself, and I am still convalescing, but at least now I am feeling a little better and more like my old self day by day.

Some good has come out of the episode though – I have decided to cut my cigarette consumption, which must do my health, as well as my pocket, some good surely?

Mind you, I cannot understand why people find it so hard to quit smoking.

Many years ago I decided to stop smoking, not for health reasons but simply because of the expense.

I did too. For something like a year I did not smoke. And certainly I saved quite a lot of money which, unhappily, I spent on the demon drink instead.

Which very nearly killed me.

A specialist, on my one–and–only period in hospital, told me that I must cut my drinking – a lot – or I would be dead "in months rather than years" – which is a sobering thought in itself.

So I stopped drinking (now half my lifetime ago) without the help proffered to me from all sides of my hospital bed.

Tell you what though – if I did decide to pack in smoking again, the last thing I'd even consider would be taking up e–cigarettes.

Quite apart from looking absurd, they are in any case banned from exactly the same places as 'the real thing' – trains, buses, pubs – so no advantage there, and are full of all kinds of junk with e–numbers upon which the jury still seems to be out as to their consequences.

Anyway, one of my most treasured possessions is a brass Zippo lighter given to me as a present by my late brother many Christmases ago and that is a most powerful, if stupid, reason to keep smoking.

In fact, brother George did stop smoking himself – and look what happened to him.

Anyway, on a brighter note, my Norfolk–based motor cruiser 'Manxman' is herself recovering now from revarnishing of her topsides, and a 'touch–up' to her paintwork as well.

She also had to undergo her Boat Safety Scheme examination – so she should be fighting fit (and newly–beautified) for another season afloat.

Within weeks I hope collie dogs Tina and Cinders and I will be afloat on the first of our 2015 cruises.

And hopefully also, this year I will not get marooned down there – though certainly I can think of many worse places in which to get lost!

Edge Hill student awarded St John's highest honour

By Henry James

AN Edge Hill student has received the highest honour given by St John Ambulance.

Rebecca Cruxton, a first–year BSc (Hons) design and technology education student, was presented with the Sovereign's Award in recognition of her volunteer work.

The award is presented to just 10 people worldwide each year.

Rebecca, who hails from Newcastle, has completed more than 1,000 hours of voluntary work, including helping to run Gateshead cadet unit where she teaches young people essential lifesaving first aid skills, working for the RISE (Respect/Inspire/Support/Empower) project teaching first aid skills to troubled or unemployed young people, and fundraising for St John Ambulance.

In 2013 she won the National Cadet of the Year award, as well as the Gateshead Young Achiever Award for her academic and volunteering success.

Rebecca Cruxton receiving her Young Achiever award

After starting at Edge Hill she was awarded an Excellence Scholarship for Volunteering and a High Achiever's Award for her BTEC results, attaining the highest mark available.

Rebecca said: "Volunteering is very important to me and I'm managing to juggle my studies with my work with St John Ambulance. In fact, I am hoping to set up a Cadet Unit in Ormskirk for local young people.

"Edge Hill has been very supportive of my volunteering endeavours, even awarding me an Excellence Scholarship. My teaching degree and my volunteering go hand–in–hand really as it was getting a taster of teaching during my days volunteering that led to me choosing it as a career."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Manager Paul Kane feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Crosby, Litherland, Aintree, Maghull, Walton, Anfield, Netherton, Bootle, Formby, Ormskirk and Skelmersdale areas & Paul is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Paul a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Ray scores first 'ace' after 50 years on the fairways!

Ray Revill–Johnson

A MEMBER of a local golf club has achieved every golfer's dream after more than 50 years of trying!

Chairman and former captain of Hurlston Hall Golf Club, Ray Revill–Johnson scored his first–ever hole in one earlier this month on the Scarisbrick course's 156–yard par–three 16th hole.

Playing with partner Mike Bennett against opponents Paul Purnell and Neil Brough, the 72–year–old landed his ace by hitting a driver into the teeth of fierce headwind.

Ray is a founder member of Hurlston Hall and was captain in 2001 with Ann Potter and has played golf on and off since the age of 19.

Councillors in war of words over budget impasse

Report by Henry James

A WAR of words has broken out among former Conservative colleagues on West Lancs Council in the wake of an acrimonious budget meeting.

The meeting was held up for nearly an hour after Derby ward councillor Adrian Owens refused to support either of the major parties' proposals.

Afterwards Cllr. Owens, who recently left the Tories to form the new Our West Lancashire group, accused both Labour and Conservative groups of being more interested in scoring "petty political points."

Now Conservative council leader, Councillor David Westley has hit back labelling Cllr. Owens "a maverick".

Cllr. Westley said: "Less than 12 months ago, Cllr. Owens, after failing to become the leader of the council, publicly stated he believed the Conservatives were the best party to run West Lancashire Borough Council. He was re–elected as a Conservative by voters in Derby Ward in 2012 but has now shown them contempt by leaving the Conservatives in a fit of pique because he couldn't get his own way.

"He did not propose a budget on the night, but merely announced a series of barrel–scraping policies in a desperate attempt to win a handful of votes.

"In the run up to the budget meeting I met with Cllr. Owens who attempted to 'sell' his support for the Conservative budget but his price was unacceptable and not in the interests of the people of West Lancashire.

"Cllr. Owens should use the impending elections to resign and offer himself to the electorate under his new party affiliation."

Councillor Owens responded: "As the leader of the new Our West Lancashire Party, I have no intention of getting into a personal tit–for–tat with Cllr. Westley. Our budget proposals were fully costed and would have been to the benefit of the residents of West Lancashire. We will continue to promote them."

Pupils dress up for World Book Day

Pupils from Tarleton Holy Trinity dressed up as Where's Wally for World Book Day

PUPILS at Tarleton Holy Trinity CE Primary School dressed up as their favourite fictional characters to celebrate World Book Day.

Staff and children at the Church Road school kick–started a week–long reading event by taking part in a variety of activities wearing costumes from children's books, including Harry Potter, the Three Little Pigs and Where's Wally?

Headteacher, Stephen Smith, said: "The costumes that the children dressed in were amazing. It all helps to make reading more fun.

"Kitchen staff also joined in with the book theme, making the children Mr Twit's Wormy Spaghetti, Toad in the Hole in reference to Wind in the Willows and Little Gingerbread Men."

Meanwhile, youngsters at Aughton Town Green Primary School also swapped their school unforms for more colourful attire to celebrate World Book Day.

Pupils at the school in Town Green Lane took part in the bedtime–themed event by dressing as literary characters or wearing their pyjamas and took in their favourite books to share with classmates.

Headteacher, Nick Huxley, said: "The pupils had great fun on the day and if opportunities like this encourage children to read more it can only be a positive thing."

School plays host to Swedish teachers

A WEST Lancashire school has played host to two special guests in preparation for a school trip with a difference later this year.

Hesketh–with–Becconsall All Saints CE Primary welcomed Maya Mustorien and Magdalena Froberg, who are both headteachers at their Swedish 'partner' school Hovstaskolan School in Orebro.

The pair spent three days teaching pupils at the local school in Shore Road.

A party of 35 youngsters from All Saints Hesketh will be going to stay in Sweden and attending the Hovstaskolan School in May.

The schools have been paired up and working together to learn about each other's culture for the last eight years.

All Saints headteacher, Lawrence Smye–Rumsby, said: "The main purpose of Maya and Magdalena's visit was to prepare for our visit to Sweden in May and for them to learn about the English education system.

"They met with staff, sampled pupils' work and lessons and considered our internal data tracking system.

"Much was learned by both schools and arrangements were agreed to prepare for the visit of 35 of our older pupils in May.

"They have already been exchanging work and will join together to both work and experience Swedish culture, language and life. We are all very excited about the trip."

New facility will help law students experience 'feel' of courtroom

By Danielle Thompson

The new mooting room at Edge Hill

BUDDING lawyers will be able to practise their debating skills and sharpen up their cross–examination techniques in appropriate surroundings following the opening of a new facility at Edge Hill University.

The university's law department has opened a brand new 'mooting room' fitted with genuine courtroom furniture acquired from th former Southport Magistrates Court.

A moot is a discussion of a hypothetical legal case as an academic exercise with students playing the roles of counsel to deliver oral arguments on one or more points of law and presenting their case before a judge – in this case usually a member of staff.

The room also contains more than 600 law text books donated to the university by Southport–based Fletchers Solicitors, a clinical negligence and serious injury law firm.

Edge Hill lecturer and solicitor, Robert Collinson, said: "The reputation of Edge Hill University's law degree programmes has grown steadily. We are committed to providing students with practical and useful experiences to supplement their academic activities. This has led us to establish a pro bono legal advice centre where students, under expert supervision, provide free legal advice for the local community.

"The Mooting Room, complete with beautiful American oak furniture, will enable the university to replicate a courtroom in which students can train and practise their mooting skills, increasing their confidence and enhancing their public speaking."

Band land place in national finals

Report by Henry James

THE players of Skelmersdale Prize Band have secured a place in the National Championships after coming second at the North West regional championships in Blackpool.

Backed by a coachload of supporters and after months of preparation, the band took to the stage in the magnificent Empress Ballroom at the Winter Gardens to perform their interpretation of An English Pastorale by composer Dean Jones.

The band enjoyed preparing for the performance and showed much enthusiasm at the chance to put in some hard work on a new test piece after their recent triumphs at Preston Guild Hall and Butlin's, Skegness.

Pitted against 13 other talented bands from the area they were delighted to have been awarded second place by adjudicators Ian Brownbill and Sarah Groarke–Booth.

This saw them take home another trophy and earned them an invitation to compete in the National Championships in Cheltenham in September.

A spokeswoman for the band said: "The performance from the band was top quality and wouldn't have been possible without the dedication of the players, the expertise and attention to detail from conductor David Chapman, and the support of the committee and fans."

Next date for the band, who rehearse at their band room in Old Skelmersdale twice a week, is a concert at St Michael's and All Angels Church, Dalton, on Saturday (March 14).

For more information about the band go to www.skelmersdale prizeband.org.

Majority of pupils get chosen school

Report by Henry James

NEARLY 97% of pupils in Lancashire will be attending one of their preferred schools or academies this September, despite a rise of more than1,000 applicants since last year.

Figures for secondary school admissions show that 87% will get their first preference, 9.5% will go to schools which were their second or third preference, while 3.5% have been allocated a place at other schools.

The numbers of those receiving preferred places is likely to rise as appeals are heard and other adjustments are made.

County Councillor Matthew Tomlinson, Lancashire County Council's cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "Waiting to find out which secondary school you've been allocated can be an anxious time for both parents and children. I have first–hand experience of this so I know exactly how parents feel at this time.

"I'm pleased to know that 97% of pupils in the county will be getting one of their three preferences and 87% have their first preference. Importantly, every pupil has been allocated a secondary school place.

"School places are allocated fairly and objectively and every application is agreed upon using the criteria which have been agreed for that school.

"Our admissions team do a good job advising parents how to use their preferences wisely and what to do if they are unhappy with the place they've got. There's still a lot of movement with the allocation of school places between now and September."

This year more parents than ever – nearly 98% overall – chose to complete their application online.

For advice and information on school admissions and appeals, parents in West Lancashire can telephone the area education offices on 01772 532191 or 532190.

Everyone whose initial offer is not for their preferred schools or academies will automatically receive a form with information about waiting lists and the appeals process. Appeals are heard locally and those for Lancashire secondary schools will take place during May and June.

Festival with international flavour

AN Ormskirk pub will be offering 10 international real ales as part of a 17–day festival.

There will also be 24 beers brewed using only British–grown hop varieties alongside the real ales at the festival at The Court Leet in Wheatsheaf Walk running from Friday (March 13) to Sunday, March 29.

Manager, Nathan McGovern, said: "The festival is a perfect opportunity to showcase the wonderful range of British–grown hop varieties and support British hop farmers. And it will also give people the opportunity to enjoy a superb selection of UK and international beers many of which have not been served in the pub before."

Customers will be able to sample any three of the real ales in special third–of–a–pint glasses for the price of a pint.

Prize includes a family ticket to see Disney film at Odeon Cinema, Switch Island

DREAMING of turning your rags into riches?

Well you could win your happily ever after by entering the Champion's competition to win a Cinderella goody bag worth £100 – but make sure you enter before the clock strikes midnight!

To celebrate the release of Disney's Cinderella on March 27, the Odeon in Switch Island, Aintree is giving Champion readers the chance to win a magical goody bag worth £100.

The prize includes Cinderella merchandise and a family ticket (5 people maximum) to go and see the film at Odeon Switch Island.

Inspired by the classic fairy tale, Cinderella is a live action feature film that brings to life the timeless images from Disney's 1950 animated masterpiece as fully–realised characters in a dazzling spectacle for a whole new generation.

Starring Lily James as Cinderella, Cate Blanchett as the Wicked Stepmother and Helen Bonham Carter as the Fairy Godmother, Cinderella is a stunning film that will have huge appeal to all ages.

To be in with a chance of winning this fairytale prize, just answer the following simple question.

• With the help of her Fairy Godmother, Cinderella goes through a magical transformation so that she can attend the ball. At what time does the magic run out however?

a) 6 o'clock
b) Midday
c) Midnight

To enter simply email your answer to holly.rummens@champnews.com

Your entry must reach us by Wednesday, March 18, 2015. The winner will be the sender of the first correct answer drawn at random. Usual Champion rules apply.

Chance to create a flower or fairy at hall

Report by
Danielle Thompson

VISITORS to Rufford Old Hall can create a flower of fairy for the 'Woollen Woodland' project this Sunday, March 15.

The National Trust's Rufford Old Hall and BBC Radio Lancashire's 'Up for Arts' are teaming up to host a crafting workshop from 11am – 3pm in the grounds.

Expert tutors will be on hand to show visitors how to crochet and craft a flower or a fairy with materials provided –although visitors are welcome to bring wool or felt.

The completed flowers, creatures and fairies will be installed in the grounds of the Hall at the end of April and will be on display until August 2015.

Catherine Hazely, Rufford's Visitor Experience officer said: "As it's Mother's Day, why not bring mum along."

If you can't make it to the workshop, you can make a fairy or flower for the Woollen Woods and send it to go on display with the other items.

The workshop costs £3 to attend, which covers the cost of the materials.

BBC Radio Lancashire will be broadcasting its 'Lancashire Outdoors' programme live from Rufford Old Hall from 11am–2pm to coincide with the workshop.

National Theatre production to be streamed to centre

A LIVE broadcast of the highly–praised National Theatre's upcoming production A View from the Bridge has been added to a programme at The Arts Centre, Ormskirk.

The production features a cast led by Mark Strong (The Imitation Game; Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy) in the Young Vic's production of A View from the Bridge – the Evening Standard, Guardian and Independent's top theatre pick of 2014.

The great Arthur Miller confronts the American dream in this dark and passionate tale. In Brooklyn, longshoreman Eddie Carbone welcomes his Sicilian cousins to the land of freedom. But when one of them falls for his beautiful niece, they discover that freedom comes at a price. Eddie's jealous mistrust exposes a deep, unspeakable secret – one that drives him to commit the ultimate betrayal.

Ivo van Hove directs this production of Miller's tragic masterpiece, broadcast from London's West End by National Theatre Live on March 26.

A View from the Bridge is the latest addition to an eclectic season of live screenings from the National Theatre and also the Royal Shakespeare Company (RSC), a new venture for 2015 at the Arts Centre. Other screenings include the RSC's Love's Labour's Lost, Love's Labour's Won (Much Ado About Nothing), and The Merchant of Venice, and National Theatre Live productions Behind the Beautiful Forevers, Treasure Island, and The Hard Problem.

June Gibbons, Arts Centre manager said: "The facilities at the Arts Centre are perfect for screening live theatre and this new venture is a natural progression of Short Cuts cinema. We are really excited to be a part of the rich and diverse programme the National Theatre and The Royal Shakespeare companies are producing for community audiences."

Full listings for the live screening programme can be found at http://www.edgehill.ac.uk/artscentre/whats–on/?category=live–screenings

The Austin Metro is a classic car best left firmly in the past

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER

A CAR NUT somewhere has just bought the entire set of development blueprints for the Austin Metro off the internet.

On the one hand, I'm a tiny bit envious of whoever's just snapped up this intriguing bit of British Leyland history – imagine being able to go to a car show and tell your chums you own all the diagrams necessary to put an entire car back into production.

In a way, you'd own an entire national motoring institution, but don't even think about using the blueprints to bring the poor old Metro back from the dead. Largely because nobody in their right mind would buy one.

It was a great car in its day but if it was in today's showrooms you'd immediately dismiss it because it'd be 30 years out of date. None of British Leyland's offerings are being used en–masse any more.

Unless, of course, you get the train into work. If you ever use the Wigan to Southport or Kirkby to Southport lines, then chances are you'll be all too familiar with BL's handiwork.

You might not know it but the Class 142 Pacer is the Austin Metro's distant cousin, because both were developed by the then state–run motor manufacturer.

Like its four–wheeled relative, the Pacer wasn't bad in its 1980s heyday – it actually replaced some truly ancient railway relics dating back to the 1950s. The difference is that while the Metro was pensioned off 17 years ago, the now utterly outdated Pacer is still chugging its way around the British rail network every single day, making commuters miserable.

If the powers–that–be are serious about convincing petrolheads like me to give up cars they're going to have do better than a wheezy, clattery a train badly wrapped up in bodywork stolen from a Leyland National bus.

The Austin Metro is a car we should be proud of, but if I told you to give up your brand new Fiesta for one you'd tell me where to get off.

It's the same with trains. You're not going to convince a single motorist to change tack if the best you've got are those infernal Pacers.

Vauxhall launch nitro pump

RETAILER 06 Vauxhall, with sites in Ormskirk and Skelmersdale, is delighted to announce it is now able to offer its customers the use of a Nitrogren Tyre Inflation Machine.

The only Vauxhall dealer in the area to have one, the Nitrogen Tyre Inflation Machine takes air out of vehicle tyres and replaces it with the gas, making it safer to drive.

The gas will also ensure tyres have the correct pressure and, in turn, save on fuel economy as under–inflated tyres cause resistance, whereby more power and fuel is needed. Visit a dealership for more details.

Richmond boost promotion hopes

Burscough Richmond 2
Hurst Green 0

RICHMOND beat second placed Hurst Green to close the gap on the teams bidding to secure the promotion spots up to the West Lancashire Premier League.

Richmond looked the most dangerous in the early part of the match.

Strikers Jordan and Berry had very good chances when one on one with the keeper.

The latter falied to release his shot early enough letting the away side's defender nick the ball off the toe of the tall centre forward.

Richmond were unable to capitalise on their good build up play at at half time it was 0–0.

They took the lead on 72 minutes when Berry was deemed to have been fouled in the penalty area and Mike Galliers scored from the spot.

Five minutes later Anthony Murt and Mark Bailey replaced Jordan Lorde and Andy Kenyon. It turned out to be inspirational decision by the manager.

On 80 minutes a lofted ball out of midfield found the Hurst Green defenders a little to far forward.

It allowed Bailey to spring the offside trap and latched onto the ball, ran forward and slotted the ball under the on coming keeper.

Richmond have a chance of promotion with this win,but with six games to play and a return leg at Hurst Green,it wont be an easy task.

Late goal agony for luckless Linnets

Radcliffe Borough 2
Burscough 1

BURSCOUGH threw away the lead to lose 2–1 against a home side, who are battling relegation.

The first real chance fell on 15 minutes as Danny Lambert's free kick from the right was fired straight at visiting keeper Josh Clarke.

A similar free kick minutes later saw Lambert further test the keeper from the same position as Clarke failed to hold the ball and it bounced away to safety.

On 27 minutes Steve Foster sent a ball through to Sam McMahon whose lob beat the keeper but was cleared away.

Burscough opened their account two minutes later after a goalmouth scramble when Eddie Toner bundled the ball into the net.

In the second half the opening ten minutes were very scrappy with neither side making any positive attempts on goal.

This effort from aBurscough attack was saved.

Boro settled first and equalised on the hour mark after Clarke palmed Lambert's free kick from the half way line into the path of Sam McMahon who headed home from six yards out.

Radcliffe pressed forward in search of the winning goal. Matthew Davies met Richard Smith's throw in the area and his turn and shot just whistled past the post.

Burscough almost took the lead when substitute Lloyd Dean's header hit the bar from a corner.

But it was the home side who went 2–1 up on 86 minutes after Rokka's cross from the left was met by the head of Davies.

The ball beat the keeper and Steve Foster got the final touch to get the ball over the line.

Supporters rally round to help club

SKELMERSDALE United have had financial struggles over the last couple of months after being let down by a sponsorship deal that didn't materialise, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

But supporters of the club have rallied round to raise money after it became clear that the players were going to have to take a cut in wages to balance the books.

Over the last few weeks the supporters and the board have been busy raising funds.

Last week The Champion highlighted Chairman Paul Griffiths appeal for support from the town's business community and he has had some good responses. He said: "It is terrific how the supporters have rallied round and I must say a big thank you for their efforts, they really are making a difference."

Tommy Lawson and his assistant Brian Richardson recently held a meet the manager night that brought a great turnout on the night.

A former player who has made a name for himself has helped, with Cardiff City star Craig Noone having already contributed a signed shirt.

And he has also said he would like to hold a meet the supporters for a night in the social club soon, with all the money going to the football club where he started his career.

A financial support wall has also been successful, where those that make donations can have their names for all to see, to contribute to that you can contact Kevin Panther on 07527 499715 or by seeing Tommy Lawson himself.

The supporters have arranged a number of schemes, one an autographed and authenticated photograph of Robbie Fowler.

The club has also arranged a presentation night, when it is organising a cabaret evening at the social club on Friday, May 8.

It is planned to have popular local vocalist Paul McCoy entertaining the audience.

Tickets are available from the social club or by calling the club on 01695 722123.

Skem complete double over Rams

Skelmersdale United 3
Ramsbottom United 0

UNITED made it a home and away double over their rivals from East Lancashire on Saturday, three goals early in the second–half building on the firm foundation of a goalless first period, that they definitely won on points, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

Skem were in control from the off and could have struck at least a couple of goals before half an hour had elapsed.

Scott Bakkor beat a man only to see Rammy goalkeeper Grant Shenton save his effort, before a clever bit of hold–up play by Dan Mitchley suffered the same fate on the quarter–hour and then a Ken Strickland free–kick fizzed inches over the crossbar.

Joe Whittington and Valtar Fernandes combined with Mitchley on the right to send a ball across the face of goal that somehow went without a telling touch before Shenton made the save of the match with his legs to deny Whittington.

In the 38th minute Osebi Abadaki did damage to the Ramsbottom cause in strange circumstances.

He clashed with Dale Wight and as Wright jogged away to take up a position for the free–kick, Abadaki swung his boot at him, and the referee brandished a red card. There had been no incident, no challenge and no verbal appeals at all.

The dismissal didn't deter Ramsbottom too much though, as James made his best save of the match five minutes later falling low to his left to keep out a Jamie Rother shot.

Skelmersdale didn't waste any time after the restart in putting that right and by the 62nd minute they had a 3–0 lead. The first goal in the 50th minute arrived after the ball was worked into a central spot from where Mitchley saw his shot parried by Shenton, but at the same time the ball ran free behind the keeper, Bakkor pounced and thumped the ball into the empty net.

Two minutes later Bakkor returned the favour to Mitchley, flicking on a through ball that put Mitchley one on one with Shenton, Mitchley lifting the ball over the advancing custodian to make it 2–0.

In the 62nd minute it was game over. Warren Bellew had been on the pitch at substitute for just three minutes when he put in a swirling cross from the left; Mitchley ran onto the ball and powerfully headed the ball into the net.

It was a comfortable victory and will set Skem up for a run of three consecutive away games on the next three Saturdays, starting with a trip to struggling Belper Town.
